By order of SMA, No. 64 of 17 April 1948, these C plants have been abolished. Until April 1948, there existed A, B and C lists in the Soviet Zone of Germany, which had been prepared in accordance with the SMA order No. 124 issued in 1945. The A lists contained the sequestered plants, which had been disowned and had become government-owned plants; the B lists included those sequestered plants which would be returned to their former owners; C lists enumerated those sequestered plants which were originally intended to become Soviet property.

After the execution of order No. 64 in the Soviet Zone of Germany, DWK introduced an entirely new organization of the disowned German factories except those which had become Soviet Corporation Plants and which, for this reason, were not under German control. At that time, the most important, disowned plants, irrespective of their geographical location, were merged to VEB (Z) (i.e. Volkseigene Be-triebe Zonenbetriebe - Nationalized Plants, Zonal Plants, which were under the direct management of DWK); the less important plants were merged to VEB (L), i.e. Volkseigene Betriebe, Landesbetriebe - Regional Plants which were under the management of the respective regional government.

b. (1) The Agricultural Machines Plant Rudolf Sack is at 90 Karl-Heine-Strasse (not Karl-Hauer-Strasse). This plant is no longer a private factory, but a VEB (Z) No. 32/363/106.

(2) Under item 15 of the list, column 3: Read "C Plant Order 124", delete C Plant, order 134.

(3) Under item 21 of the list: Read "Steam plow factory", delete "steam aircraft factory".

(4) The Copper and Brass Plant mentioned under item 42 is the nonferrous Metal Rolling Mill, Hettstedt.

c. The capacity figures mean tons per month.

1 Annex: 1 list on ditto in German "Verzeichnis der Press-, Stanz- und Schmiedefirmen in der S.B.Z. (Dt. u. SAG-Betriebe).
